

DO YOU RUN A FETISH BUSINESS?

HandJobs Media is a promotions and marketing specialist serving the needs of the fetish industry and the BDSM community. We are a strategic thinking, action-centred agency with an exceptional understanding of the market, the environment, and of the issues facing small and medium-sized businesses.

We can reach your core target audience and 'talk' to them in their own language at the most relevant times and our approach to flyer distribution is unique within the industry. Working at night, almost every weekend of the year, our club and event distribution teams reach the hedonistic party crowd of fetish and BDSM clubbers in London, Brighton, Hertfordshire, Manchester, and beyond. By working closely with event promoters, and by distributing at peak times, we can get your messages directly into the hands of over 2,000 fetish & BDSM clubbers - every month. It's first-rate competitive targeting; generating awareness for your brand; promoting your name and getting your messages right into the hands and minds of your target audience.

We take a personal approach to our promotional and marketing activities, which include hand-to-hand targeted flyer pack distribution, a hand-packing service, bespoke services, launch campaigns, specific promotions, marketing support, consultancy and advice. Visit our website at www.handjobsmedia.com
